EISS

EARLY INTERVENTION SUPPORT SERVICES

SCREENING AND COUNSELING
SERVICES IN A WELCOMING AND COMFORTABLE OUTPATIENT SETTING.

WHAT IS EARLY INTERVENTION SUPPORT SERVICES (EISS)?

Many adults experiencing emotional distress seek help at hospital emergency rooms. EISS offers an alternative for those who are not in need of hospitalization: screening and counseling services in a welcoming and comfortable outpatient setting.

For adults experiencing emotional distress or a mental health crisis, early treatment can provide stabilization and supportive recovery. EISS provides timely access to psychiatric consultation, counseling and other services necessary to help individuals in need of urgent mental health care.

EISS SERVICES

The EISS team works collaboratively with each individual to identify and address specific needs. They provide evidence-based and trauma-informed services to assist adults experiencing a crisis.

- Counseling services
- Psychiatric consultation
- Medication prescription and monitoring
- Case management services and coordination of community resources
- Peer support services and support groups

THE EISS TEAM

The EISS team of mental health professionals has training and expertise in crisis care.
